We recognise that families come in all different shapes and sizes and we work with parents, children, siblings, grandparents and all other important people in children's lives.

We have a number of exciting opportunities to work within our Child Contact Centre team, providing child-focused holistic support for families to help them to break down barriers to family progression and wellbeing.

All successful applicants will share a commitment to the rights of children and families, and to the provision of positive asset-based interventions. A full package of training and support will be offered.
